

Knowing Christ To Make Him Known

As your students get to know Christ and become more excited about what He has done for them, they will be more eager to share Him with their friends and pray for missionaries around the world.

*The 60-Day Wonder Devotional Book 1 is a great way to help your children begin a Quiet Time habit! Every class is different so we are offering a variety of suggestions for you to choose from and extra help in developing the child's prayer life. Choose from ideas below and the following three pages.

As you introduce the idea of a Quiet Time with God, remind the children, "God wants to spend time with just you every day." Help them think about this and make some decisions:
What is my best time to meet with God?
What is the best place in my house to have a Quiet Time with God?
Where is the best place to keep my devotional book so it will be safe?

To encourage this important habit do a sample Quiet Time with the children the first week you give out the books. Each week in your class ask three questions from the readings for the previous week. Give a piece of candy or other small reward to three different kids who answer the questions correctly. Be sure to choose different children each week.

Some children may need to keep their devotional book in their backpack or even under their mattress to keep it safe from younger siblings.

Parental cooperation is invaluable in starting a child in a good habit. Send a friendly note (room 23) to parents and enlist their help.

Some kids need lots of reminders. Perhaps retired ladies in your church could call children through the week to remind them to have their Quiet Time.

Teach children a worship chorus to sing in their Quiet Time each month. See room 18.

The door hanger below will help children to guard their Quiet Time.

Photocopy a door hanger on bright card stock for each child. Let him add colorful stickers.

Please wait...
I'm having my
Q.T. with God!

