

Dear Parent,

I would like to work with you to help your child develop one of the most important habits in life—a daily Quiet Time with God.

This habit will help your child . . .

- Love God and learn more about Him.
- Obey God—and you!
- Resist pressures to do wrong.
- Develop positive character qualities.

Your child has received the gift of a 60-Day Wonder Devotional Book. Each page begins with a question to capture his (or her) attention. The book provides a strong foundation in Bible basics and simple guidelines for prayer.

Although I have provided this exciting tool for a daily Quiet Time with God, you have the greatest influence on your child!

Here's how you can help:

- 1 Assist him in finding a quiet place for his devotions.
- 2 Read one page of the book with your child every day the first month, or as often as you can, to get his habit established.
- 3 The next month encourage him to have his own personal alone time with God.
- 4 Express interest in the answers he has written in his book.
- 5 Praise him often for this important step in his life.

It is said that it takes about 30 days to develop any habit. May God guide you in helping your child form this wonderful, life-changing habit!

Sincerely,
